Challenging Times make Successful Sales Representatives

We will not argue with you that these times are very challenging. You are selling gloves (one of many products in your arsenal) which have become a very strong commodity. The question now is, how do you prove the power of an Omni Glove against another brand?

Providing your customer will listen to facts other than price, you have much to offer when selling Omni Gloves. You see, Omni refuses to be just another glove supplier. We prefer only to sell the "crème of the crop" at competitive prices. Yet that's not an easy sale, in this still very much struggling economy. The following are just a few of our Omni Glove Attributes:

- Highest Quality Available
- Our gloves were distributor selected affording them the best possible product to sell in their respective markets.
- Same glove - every order They always come from the same manufacturing plant.
- DOP/DEHP Free Vinyl Gloves
- AMS Anti-Microbial gloves in the non-medical market
- Omni is now a Technology Leader and has more new gloves in the pipeline.
- A Trim-select product line that offers a clear choice for the sales representative to present and sell.

As you can see from our product listings (check our web site), we do not offer any secondary gloves (less than A+ quality). Over the course of time, a pleasantly persistent sales representative will combine our high quality with Omni's competitive price to win that elusive customer who may have never ordered from him or her before.

Ask our sales team how we can better help YOU convert that customer. If you like sales, you will love the victory an Omni Glove conversion can bring to you and your company.
