All Gloves are not Created Equal

We at Omni International have always taken pride in the gloves we supply. By your comments, we know you have always appreciated our high quality, as well.

As you now are very aware, Omni is owned by Blue Sail Corporation, the world's largest manufacturer of vinyl gloves. There are many reasons we were a good fit for them and they were a good fit for Omni. Probably the most important being...high quality.

Omni has always utilized the highest quality gloves in our offering to all markets. It doesn't win us every sale, BUT it does reward our many distributors with the highest quality gloves available for their customers at the most competitive pricing. That's why we refer to our offering as the "Best Value".

Over time we will be expanding our offering to you, our valued distributors. Some of the gloves we will be offering may not be available to your specific market of sales. (Remember Omni sells gloves into the Healthcare, Food Service, Multi-Purpose, Industrial and Retail/ Consumer markets.) However, you can rest assured that no matter what market, Omni either manufactures or supplies a glove for, it will always constitute the "Best Value" available.

We should note that we have recently introduced new glove products into our retail / consumer product line. Your area of sales may be next.

Keep watching future GLOVE LINES for details and information regarding Omni's future new products and what their availability may be for you.

Glove Glossary

Thermally Activated

"Body Heat Activated". The increase in temperature of the glove, by body heat when worn, improving the fit and comfort. This is particularly applicable to gloves manufactured with nitrile and some stretch vinyl.

Omni's #202 and #212 nitrile gloves are both "Thermally Activated" and improve the form fit on the hands.

Be sure to call your Omni representative at 888-999-6664 and ask how we can help grow your glove sales. Have a great month!
